

Anastasios Xepapadeas is currently Professor of Economics at the Department of Economics of the University of Bologna and Professor Emeritus at the Department of International and European Economic Studies of Athens University of Economics and Business. He is an elected international member of the US National Academy of Sciences, past president of the European Association of Environmental and Resource Economics and past Chair of the Board of Directors of the Beijer Institute of the Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences. He is co-editor of Environmental and Resource Economics and member of the editorial committee of Annual Review of Resource Economics. He has published more than one hundred and fifty papers in leading journals and collective volumes. He has participated as coordinator or lead researcher in more than 35 funded research programs. His current research interests include Spatiotemporal Analysis in Economics; Economics of Climate Change; Uncertainty, and Robust Control. GooglePage: <http://scholar.google.gr/citations?user=7WSbyAgAAAAJ&hl=en>