

Athanasia Mauridou is working as an Agronomist in the Variety Research Department of Cultivated Plants, in Thessaloniki, Sindos, and since 2011 being responsible for the examination, registration and renewal of the conventional and conservation varieties of fodder crops, sugar beet, rice and aromatic plants.

Also, she is working on the registration of the varieties concerning the denomination, the update of National, Common Catalogue and the OECD.

Previously she worked as an agronomist in the private sector.