

Spyridon FLEVARIS

Agronomist by training. Working at the European Commission since 2010, currently as policy officer at the Plant Health Unit of Health and Food Safety Directorate-General (DG SANTE), working on the day-to-day implementation of the legislation on seed and plant propagating material and the ongoing revision of this legislation.

Previously worked at DG Environment as policy officer for biodiversity and at DG Agriculture and Rural Development as auditor of direct payments. Before joining the Commission, worked in Greece as agronomist in the public and private sector.